

I used AI in the following ways:

I used Claude + Claude Code to help consolidate understanding of my teammate's work and to explain parallel computing concepts, before starting my own work. I also used it to generate logic to form graphs and justify Big O complexities for each MPI message.